

PRIVACY POLICY SPORTING CHANCE PRIZE DRAW (SCPD)

INTRODUCTION

1.1 SCPD values your privacy. This privacy policy ('Privacy Policy') explains how SCPD collects, stores, shares, protects and uses the personal information of our business contacts, visitors to our website ('Site'), and others, as detailed below. It also describes the website cookies we may use and send to your computer or mobile device when you use our Site.

1.2 In this Privacy Policy 'SCPD', 'we', 'us' and 'our' refer to Sporting Chance Prize Draw Administration Ltd. SCPD acts as a controller of personal data for the purposes of the applicable data protection law, which means that we alone (or in some cases, jointly with others) determine the means and the purpose of processing your personal data.

1.3 'Personal data' (or 'personal information'), as used in this Privacy Policy, means any information that we hold about you from which you can be identified either directly or indirectly and it may include your name, contact details, job title, employer organisation, qualifications, employment history and information obtained from publicly available sources, and results of other due diligence carried out by us.

2. HOW WE COLLECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

2.1 We may collect and store your personal information when you have had contact with SCPD through our website, or when corresponding with us.

2.2 We may collect personal information in writing, by telephone, by e-mail and through our Site. We may also receive information from third parties who collect personal information from you and pass it on to us; for example, where we conduct verification or anti-money laundering checks on sponsors and management teams for prospective transactions.

3. WHAT PERSONAL INFORMATION DO WE HOLD ABOUT YOU

3.1 If you are a business contact, we will hold limited amounts of personal information about you such as your name, contact details, job title, employer organisation.

3.2 If you are a prize-giver or sponsor, personal information that we hold about you may include your name and contact details.

4. HOW WE USE YOUR INFORMATION

4.1 We will use your personal data, and may share your personal data with other parties acting on our behalf, for one or more of the following purposes: a. managing and maintaining records of services or advice we have received b. seeking and obtaining advice from our professional advisers, including lawyers, accountants and other consultants; c. inviting you to presentations and events d. for our own administrative and record-keeping purposes, analysing our activities, or conducting internal audits; e. protecting our legal rights and interests; f. if you are a supplier, consultant, professional advisor or investor, to carry out our contract with you; and g. to conduct research about the use of our Site.

4.2 We will not sell your personal information to others.

4.3 If we wish to use your personal information for a purpose beyond that for which it was originally provided, we may ask for your consent or seek to rely on another valid legal ground to process your personal information in accordance with the applicable law.

5. INFORMATION FOR MARKETING PURPOSES

5.1 We may use your personal information to send you updates and news concerning SCPD, its business and activities and events, or to inform you about the Funds or other investment products, if we believe such information may be of interest to you.

5.2 If at any time you wish us to stop using your information for these purposes, please notify SCPD, see Contact information in paragraph 17 below.

6. GROUNDS FOR PROCESSING

6.1 In order to collect, store and process your personal data lawfully we rely on one or more of the following legal grounds: a. where applicable, your consent to particular processing activities. For example, where you have consented to us using your information for marketing purposes; or b. our legitimate interests in running our business. The legitimate interests to collect your personal information may include any of the purposes identified in this section and any other purpose where we, or a third party on our behalf, have determined that you have a reasonable expectation for us, or such third party, to collect or use your personal information for such purpose. c. our compliance with a legal obligation to which SCPD is subject. For example, we may require your personal information in order to comply with our obligations to prevent financial crime; or d. if you are a party to a contract, because processing your personal data is necessary for the performance of that contract.

7. DISCLOSURE OF YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

7.1 There are circumstances where we may wish to disclose or are compelled to disclose your personal data to third parties. This will only take place in accordance with the applicable law and for the purposes listed above. These scenarios include disclosure: a. to our outsourced third party service providers who process personal information on our behalf such as providers of cloud hosting solutions or providers of data storage or security; b. to professional advisers, such as lawyers and accountants, fund administrators or consultants; c. to legal and regulatory authorities where we are required by law or regulation to do so; and d. to any other third party where you have provided your consent.

8. RETENTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

8.1 We will take all reasonable steps to retain personal data only for the duration of the purpose for which it was obtained as set out in this Privacy Policy, unless longer retention is required by the applicable law or regulation, or we have another legitimate interest in doing so.

9. CONFIDENTIALITY AND SECURITY

9.1 SCPD will take reasonable steps to ensure that your personal data remains confidential and secure.

9.2 We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect your personal information from misuse, unauthorised access or disclosure and loss or corruption by computer viruses and other sources of harm.

10. INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS UNDER THE GENERAL DATA PROTECTION REGULATION

10.1 Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which came into effect on 25 May 2018, you have the following rights in relation to the information that we hold about you (your 'personal data').

- The right to be informed. As part of our commitment to handling personal data in a fair and transparent way we publish information about how we use your personal data/information in our privacy policy.
- The right to request access to your data (commonly known as a "subject access request"). This enables you to receive a copy of your data and to check that we are lawfully processing it.
- The right to request correction of your data. This enables you to ask us to correct any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you.
- The right to request erasure of your data. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove your data in certain circumstances for example, if you consider that there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your data where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below).
- The right to object to the processing of your data, where we are processing it to meet our public tasks or legitimate interests (or the legitimate interests of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground. You also have the right to object where we are processing your data for direct marketing purposes.
- The right to request that the processing of your data is restricted. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your data, for example, if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.
- Request the transfer of your data to another party.
- Rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling.

10.2 Further information on these rights is available from the Information Commissioner's Office. Depending on the circumstances and the nature of your request it may not be possible for us to do what you have asked, for example, where there is a statutory or contractual requirement for us to process your data and it would not be possible to fulfil our legal obligations if we were to stop. However, where you have consented to the processing (for example, where you have asked us to contact you for marketing purposes) you can withdraw your consent at any time by emailing us.

10.3 If you want to exercise any of the rights described above or are dissatisfied with the way we have used your information, you should contact us at info@sportingchanceprizedraw.com. We will seek to deal with your request without undue delay, and in any event in accordance with the requirements of the GDPR. Please note that we may keep a record of your communications to help us resolve any issues which you raise.

11. LINKS

Our Site may provide hyperlinks to websites owned and controlled by others. SCPD is not responsible and accepts no liability in relation to such websites or their contents or for their privacy practices. You should read any applicable privacy policy on any such website.

12. THIRD PARTIES

Where you submit personal information on behalf of another person, you must make that person aware of how we may collect, use and disclose their personal information, the reason you have provided it, how they can contact us and the terms of this Privacy Policy.

13. COMPLIANCE WITH PRIVACY LAWS

13.1 SCPD complies with the data protection and privacy laws to which it is subject. You should satisfy yourself that you are familiar with those laws, including any exceptions which may apply under them. You should also be aware that privacy laws in various jurisdictions may change from time to time.

13.2 Except to the extent expressly stated otherwise in this Privacy Policy, SCPD accepts no obligations with respect to the handling of personal information other than those mandated by law in any relevant country.
